

Dear 4-H Volunteers,

Thank you!

Thank you for your dedication, courage and your conviction, for bringing your sense of adventure to share and learn alongside the youth that you mentor.

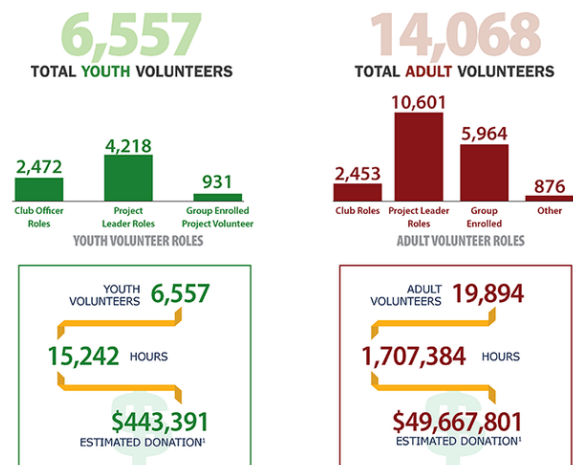

Thank you for your compassion and your awareness, for seeing the need and responding. Thank you for sharing your skills and knowledge to help improve lives and build the capacity of youth to learn and grow.

Thank you for providing opportunities and education – and for knowing that the experiences you share, and the people you encounter, teach you more than you could have imagined.

Thank you for your patience, respect and perseverance. But most of all thank you for your kindness, and for being the inspiration youth need to thrive.

Whether you are a youth volunteer or an adult volunteer, your dedication and support is priceless. The snapshot below quantifies your contribution in time and economic impact, but we know it is so much more than that. You and I may never know the exact, direct impact you made to help propel a youth member toward a successful life—but that, my friend, is your true purpose. It is your dedication, contribution, talent, time and gifts that make 4-H the amazing organization that it is. On behalf of the University of California Statewide 4-H Youth Development Program, we thank you for your dedication to help youth lead happy, healthy, thriving lives.

In gratitude,
Gemma Miner
Academic Coordinator for Volunteer Engagement

Virulent Newcastle Disease

Gold Country Fair Eliminates Poultry Exhibits

Due to the wide outbreak of Virulent Newcastle Disease (VND) poultry shows have been cancelled across the state. This disease has led to over half a million birds being euthanized, it is highly contagious and nearly always fatal.

CDFA has recommended that the Gold Country Fair eliminate all poultry exhibits for the 2019 Fair, September 5th, 2019. The board voted and approved the elimination of poultry exhibits during the March meeting.

Disease Background:

VND is a virus that affects birds and spreads quickly and causes high mortality, especially in chickens. It has been found in pigeons and pet birds.

It only takes several hundred virus particles to infect poultry, feathers can spread it, other fomites (e.g. clothing, shoes, vehicles, equipment, etc.)

Birds can look healthy, but still be shedding the virus. Many show bird owners have vaccinated their birds for Newcastle disease which may afford some protection from VND, but the poultry may still be infected and shed virus.

Outbreak Information:

VND has been confirmed in multiple backyard poultry premises and some commercial premises in Los Angeles, Riverside, San Bernardino, and Ventura County. Virulent Newcastle (VND) was confirmed in Utah and traced back to a southern California flock. CDFA/USDA continues to investigate sick bird calls and perform surveillance in the area of infected flocks. There are continued rumors of the disease being in other locations. CDFA/USDA continues to investigate these rumors to greatest extent possible. Point being - the disease may be circulating in other parts of the state where VND has not been officially confirmed.

For any questions regarding the cancellation of the Gold Country Fair's poultry exhibits please call the fair office at (530)823-4533.
