

DARRYL SWEET, MSCM, CPSM, is the Chief Procurement Officer at University of California, Agriculture and Natural Resources. He has been involved in supply chain management for 25+ years. Previously he served as the Operations Manager in the fuel industry prior to joining the City of San Leandro as the Purchasing Supervisor. In 2006, he joined the UC system at the Office of the President as a Commodity Manager in Strategic Sourcing and then joined UC Hastings College of the Law as the Director of Business Services. From 2020 to 2024, he was General Services Manager for the City of Berkeley.

Darryl has a Bachelor's Degree from UC Santa Barbara, a Master's Degree in Supply Chain Management from American Graduate University, and is a Certified Professional in Supply Management (CPSM) from the Institute for Supply Management (ISM).

Professional associations include the California Association of Public Procurement Officials (CAPPO). He served as President, 2018-2019 and a board member, 2015–2020, and again in 2024-2025. He is a coach and mentor to other CAPPO members, has presented several educational sessions for CAPPO. Besides supply chain, Darryl's interests are in aviation and maritime, and he is an avid trail runner.