COMMUNITY CONNECTION

A local classroom teacher is offering baby chicks for free! She plans to hatch them as part of a science project and has connected with 4-H to gauge community interest. The baby chicks will be ready in April! For more information, please contact Kayla at kgulick@ucanr.edu.

The Marin County website has moved to a new platform. We are currently working on updating all information and enhancing the user experience with this new system. Please note that a new link has been created as part of this transition. We appreciate your patience during this change! For details on upcoming events, projects, or any general questions, please contact the 4-H office.
